NAVAL-BUILDING BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

ADAMS' PLEA FOR CRUISER IS HEARD

Test Will Be Given the "Flying Deck" Warship Before More Money Is Approved

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—A $74,000,000 naval construction bill was approved today by the House naval committee.

Approval was not accorded, however, to Secretary Adams' recommendation for authorization of $15,000,000 for a six-inch gun cruiser of the type over which there has been considerable dispute.

TO TEST "FLYING DECK"

Chairman Britten said it was not included because the committee was disinclined to use up cruiser tonnage allowed under the London treaty without first determining whether a new "flying deck" cruiser would prove satisfactory.

The bill authorizes expenditure of $72,500,000 on a 13,800-ton airplane carrier, $20,750,000 on a flying deck cruiser with a complement of 36 airplanes, $17,000,000 for four submarines, $5,000,000 for 120 airplanes, and $2,000,000 for experimentation with Diesel engines.

11 CRUISERS AUTHORIZED

With the items included in this bill, Secretary Adams' recommended the present building program under the London treaty will total $125,350,000.

For construction of a destroyer leader and ten destroyers, $52,500,000 already has been authorized.

Chairman Britten said he believed the bill had "quite a good chance" to pass both Houses at this session.

Red Cross Welcomes Probe

Say It Hasn't 18 Million

Washington, Jan. 14 (INS)—John Payne, Paymaster, chairman of the Red Cross, said today, "We invite an investigation," when told of a threat by Senators Thomas (D., Oklahoma), and Wheeler (D., Montana), to ask the Senate to investigate the management of the organization.

Thomas said the Red Cross had received $18,000,000 for immediate relief, but James H. McClinton, vice-chairman of Red Cross finance, declared it had little more than $4,000,000 and is spending this at the rate of $300,000 a day for relief.

PAYROLL IS REVEALED

McClinton said the annual report of the Red Cross for the fiscal year ended last June, gave the salaries of the workers as follows: One person receiving $10,000 a year, seven receive under $12,000, seven under $10,000, 13 under $8,000, 20 under $6,000, 61 under $5,000, 191 under $2,500, 232 under $2,000, 244 under $1,500, 309 under $1,000 and 153 under $500.

He was pointed out that these salaries do not include itinerant instructors, teacher workers, and other personnel used in disaster relief.

"We must maintain our vast organization and our vast work," he said. "They are necessary for charitable work and are valuable in raising money."

$500,000 FOR DROUTH

The Red Cross financial program adopted June 30, 1929, followed until next June 30, follows: Budget to June 30, 1931, $2,225,875. For drouth relief, $2,000,000. Other, $225,875. Total of $2,225,875. Of the $2,000,000 for drouth relief, $750,000 has been expended to January 15, 1931. Allocations now running are about $200,000 a day.

The permanently invested funds of the Red Cross, the interest on which is available for the general program, are as follows:

Lucy Urges More State Relief Action for Jobless

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 14 (AP)—More action among State relief agencies was the advice left with Arkansas today by Col. J. F. Lucy, President Hoover's representative for a survey of the Southwest.

He spent yesterday in conference with State officials here and made a flying trip to England, scene of recent demonstrations by the hungry.

He has visited Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.

Col. Lucy said the situation was grave in rural sections of Arkansas.

He vigorously criticized industrial leaders and the State unemployment committee for not giving sufficient time to relief measures.

"I have advised the President," he said, "in the worst condition of any in my district and I have asked for special consideration for Arkansas," he stated.

He believed there were 200 to 300 more he could not find.

CARAWAY LEADS DROUTH FIGHT

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Senate today resumed disputing the $10,000,000 added to the drouth loan appropriation bill to be used for food purchases.

Assailing the action of the conference committee in disagreeing on this amendment, Senator Caraway said today, "We invite an investigation," when told of a threat by Senators Thomas (D., Oklahoma), and Wheeler (D., Montana), to ask the Senate to investigate the management of the organization.

Thomas said the Red Cross had received $18,000,000 for immediate relief, but James H. McClinton, vice-chairman of Red Cross finance, declared it had little more than $4,000,000 and is spending this at the rate of $300,000 a day for relief.

Partier Trumped His Ace and Judge Lets Him Go

Memphis, Mich., Jan. 14 (AP)—George Bolin's business-bridge partner "sent a boy to do a man's work" and thus did John Ackers, newspaper reporter, break into the news.

It all started when Mrs. John Ashley trumped Bolin's ace of spades. Something bordering on a riot ensued. The specific police charge was that Bolin knocked down Mrs. Ashley, kicked out the windows, broke four mirrors, slugged the host, and then punched Police Capt. Joseph Jossart in the nose.

This all happened Monday night. Yesterday, in Police Court, the judge presented his verdict.

"You can't convict this man, your honor," said he.

"My client," he continued, "declares he led the ace of spades after that suit had been played twice. His partner trumped it—but with the ace."

MOTHER SAVES LIFE OF BABY

Providence, Jan. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Ontario Ferrara snatched her 31-month-old child Conchetta, from a blazing baby carriage today and carried the child to safety when an explosion wrecked the Ferrara home at 109 King Philip st.

Two other children, aged five and three years, escaped with slight burns.

It is believed that the explosion may have been caused by an over-heated pipe which fed kerosene from the cellar to a stove in the kitchen, but the exact cause has not been determined.

Raskob Bride to Cook His Meals in New Flat

For the chester alone among the bustling life of the university.

Tomorrow they will move in.

EASY TO SET

They are not hard to please. Those Raskobs.

A little kitchenette, with an electric refrigerator, a small gas stove, and a lightly-stocked china cabinet.

Two bedrooms snugly into a corner of the building—these will fill the simple requirements of those Raskobs.

Not two hundred yards away stands Harvard Memorial Hall, a huge clock within view from any of the windows. No clocks for the Raskobs.

"I have never met a more delightful couple," said Rodman W. Seymour, manager of the house, where people say "I don't like this" or "I don't like that" when you show them around. Or else they say "I must have this" or "I must have that." The Raskobs were satisfied with everything.

ENTHUSIASM OVER COOKING

"I told them we had no fire-places and small electric."

"Well, we can't expect everything in one place," said Mrs. Raskob.

Mrs. Raskob enthused over the gas stove on which she will do all the cooking.

It looks as though Mrs. Raskob will take charge of things all by herself. So far there has been no request for maid service.

TUNNEL DEATH TIES UP TRAINS

The number of women and girls passengers on the train, faintly when informed what had occurred.

The train was thundering into the station about 8:45 when Philip Shubert, of 44 Daring st., Medford, who was standing next to the motorist's cab, saw the line-man in black cap and overalls begin the work.

Shubert said he suspected something was going to happen and a moment later, guards on the train and many of the passengers noticed that the rear cars were bumping on the rails.

Realizing immediately what had happened, the guard called an inspection. He and the motorist, James Pops of Bennett pl., Medford, split the train between the third and fourth cars, after the riders had been ordered out.

Meanwhile firemen were summoned and they descended to the cabbed and removed the body after the fourth car had been jacked up.

The body was badly mangled. Nearby was found a man's badge with the number 135, Kenney's number.

Police reserves were rushed to the scene from Lagrange st. station to hold the crowd in check as the firemen could work unhindered.

AS MINUTES IN TRAIN

Close behind was another train which had passed the switch at Castle st., where the Atlantic ave. line branches off, and this train was at a standstill until 9:20.

It was finally backed to Dover st. to make the detour, but as it reached that station word came that the line was clear, and it was then operated over its regular route through the tunnel. Its passengers had been confined in the cars for three-quarters of an hour.

Kenney's oldest child is James, 12, and the others are Francis, 10; Alice, 9; Margaret, 7, and Edward, 6. All except Margaret and Edward were in school and first learned of their father's death when they reached home at noon.

WALSH HITS PROPAGANDA OF TRUST

Washington, Jan. 14 (INS)—Slashing at "propaganda to put the Senate in an unfavorable light" on its attempted ouster of three federal power commissioners, Senator David I. Walsh (D.) of Massachusetts, late yesterday, demanded a curb of "self-seeking and predatory interest."

Discussing Edward B. Broward (later confirmed) as a tariff commissioner, Walsh deplored Senate acquiescence in whatever appointments the President may choose to make.

Meanwhile, Comptroller-General J. E. McCarl backed up the power commissioners, whose nomination the Senate has voted to reconsider, by authorizing payment of their salaries.

McCarl acted on an unexpected request from the power commission's discharging officer for a ruling. Funds for the commission's expenses also were approved.

TO PROBE DISMISSALS
Plans were under way in the Senate to investigate the commission's dismissal of Chief Accountant William V. King and Solicitor Charles A. Russell, and other phases of water power policy.

Walsh (D.) of Montana, said he planned to speak on the power commission fight as soon as the Senate acts on the appointment of Eugene Meyer as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

He indicated he would favor a committee inquiry into the commission's actions. Walsh led the earlier fight.

Walsh, of Massachusetts, linked the power commission fight with the clash of two political philosophies that is "the real political struggle in the United States," he said.

"One of these political philosophies has led to the enactment of legislation here to limit and to curb the excesses and the greed of so-called predatory interests in this country."

RAPS HOOVER POLICY
"I want to ask how any man who believes in liberal, progressive government can sit silent in this chamber and vote for the confirmation of men who are determined to regulate the special, vested interests, when we know, or have reason to know, that because of their environment, associations and philosophy they will not regulate effectively."

The importance of full knowledge of the background of appointments formerly was recognized by President Hoover, in his abandoned policy of submitting to the Senate the names of those sponsoring appointments, Walsh said.

He declared this knowledge especially needed as to appointments to regulatory posts, "the only conflict is a conflict between vested power and privilege on the one hand, and on the other hand the rights of the common, average man."

London, Jan. 14 (INS)—The Church of England is declining, according to the official record, 1929 figures in 1929 numbered 191,677, in 1927 they were 210,000. Eastern evangelists dropped in a similar proportion. The number of clergy shrinks yearly. The number of young men being ordained does not keep pace with the loss of clergy through death.

VETS FORM TO FORCE ACTION ON BONUS

Washington, Jan. 14 (U.S.)—The campaign for immediate cash redemption of veterans' adjusted compensation certificates was given added impetus today with the incorporation of the United Service League.

The league, a nationwide organization of enlisted men who served in any American war, had its inception of a meeting here last fall. The work of completing the organization has been done at a series of meetings since then and the first open session will be held here next Wednesday.

One of the first efforts of the new organization, Secretary William Glenn announced, "will be a campaign to obtain action by Congress authorizing the payment to all ex-service men of the full face value of their adjusted compensation certificates."

Representative Wright of Texas, a leader in the movement to cash the bonus, will be the principal speaker at the first open meeting.

The object of the organization, as set out in the articles of incorporation, is:

"To foster and protect the interests of those who served honorably in the armed forces of the United States during a war in which the United States was a party, and whose services were rendered as enlisted men."

Henry G. Flynn is president and Frank A. Connolly treasurer of the league.

Washington, Jan. 14 (U.S.)—Failure of Congress at its present session to pass a bill for immediate cash redemption of the war veterans' government insurance policies would warrant the calling of an extra session for that purpose, Representative Rankin (D.) of Minnesota, declared today.

Rankin, who is ranking Democrat on the House Veterans' Legislative Committee, said:

"If the veterans of the World War ever needed what the government owes them, they need it now. Thousands of ex-service men are now out of employment, out of money and many of them really suffering for the necessities of life."

Mrs. Dodge's Nose Now in Silver Cradle

Surgeon's Death Reveals Ordeal Rich Women Endure Seeking Return of Beauty

New York, Jan. 14.—The tragic and dramatic death of Dr. Luis P. Berne, world-famous plastic surgeon, revealed today the ordeal to which rich and prominent women subject themselves in their quest for the return to the beauty of their youth.

Dr. Berne collapsed and died while performing an operation on the face of Mrs. Morris E. Dodge, Jr., in the Park West Hotel. Mrs. Dodge, second wife of the multimillionaire steel trust enthusiast, is still in the hospital and must remain for several days.

Her face, according to reports trickling through a strict censorship at the hospital, has turned black as a result of the operation, rushed through to completion by Dr. Jose Stefan, and will remain in that condition for a few days more.

Then she must wear a specially prepared silver cradle, holding the nose in shape until it is partly healed. Public engagements of any nature will be an impossibility for Mrs. Dodge for the next few weeks.

Mrs. Dodge engaged Dr. Berne some time ago to narrow her nose, remove a small protuberance from the end of her nose and to turn the whole organ from the Roman type to that which is best described as retroussé.

It was while performing this operation that Dr. Berne collapsed and fell over the form of his patient as the local anesthetic was administered.

BRIEF BACKS UP CLARK RULING

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—Two New York lawyers have prepared a brief for presentation to the Supreme Court upholding the decision of Federal Judge Clark of New Jersey that the prohibition amendment is invalid because improperly ratified.

They are Henry W. Jessup and Austin G. Fox. They plan to seek the court's permission to file the brief when it hears argument on the government's appeal from the Clark decision next Wednesday.

They contend the Constitution and its framers contemplated two kinds of amendments, and support Judge Clark's view that an amendment affecting individual rights must be passed upon by state conventions rather than by legislatures.

HOOPER SECOND TERM DRIVE OPENS

Washington, Jan. 14 (U.S.)—The campaign for the re-election of President Hoover is already in full swing, with the disclosure of a letter sent by Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican National Committee, to Republican National leaders throughout the country.

The letter appeals to them to "defend the President" and to aid the national committee in "an aggressive, active, determined campaign from this day until the polls close in 1932."

CAMPAIGN URGED

Extolling the President for presenting a "disastrous panic," the letter declares Mr. Hoover "has sustained the American sense of vigor, maintained the American standard of living, prevented a nationwide money panic, and kept thousands of men and women at work in every community who would otherwise have been listed among the unemployed."

Republicans leaders are urged to combat "Raskob's 'Smear Hooper' Campaign," the letter adds, continuing:

"If you make insinuations and affidavits promulgated which are being carried on by Raskob's organization in every community in the United States, they hope to break down the people's confidence in Herbert Hoover and thereby elect a Democrat in 1932."

LUCAS' ATTACK INCLUDED

The letter is dated the day before Christmas, but reached various publications here only a day or two ago. Accompanying each letter was a copy of the Lucas attack of December 22 on Senator Norris and also a proposal that Republicans precinct leaders arrange for meetings to Lincoln's birthday to hear President Hoover's radio speech.

When existence of the Lucas letter became known here inquiries made concerning it at Republican national headquarters brought verification of its authenticity.

BOAT TONNAGE RAISED FOR RUM

Philadelphia, Jan. 14 (AP)—A scheme whereby the tonnage of rum vessels was raised to obtain bonded liquor for medicinal use has been revealed by the arrest of two shipping brokers.

Under the law, the size of a ship and the number of crew regulate the quantity of liquor that may be obtained.

The brokers, Francis Ansell and Charles Francis, were charged with changing the registry of the motor yacht Tonkaway from American to British and of boosting its tonnage from 11 to 223 tons and its crew from two to 27 men.

Samuel O. Wynne, in charge of the bureau of industrial alcohol, said the scheme had been in operation since the early days of prohibition. He said the scheme was operated by members of the crew and shipping brokers.

Jim Maloney, South Boston heavyweight, and Primo Carnera will meet in a return bout at Miami, Fla., next month, according to information received by the Boston Evening American today.

The show will be promoted by Frank Bruce, former general manager of Madison Square Garden Corporation. He will pay a rental to the New York Garden for the use of its stadium in Miami.

The signing of a Carnera-Maloney bout is part of the program to build up Primo for a victory with the winner of the Schmeling-Stirling bout, which takes place in Chicago in June.

Nine Tough Games on Irish 1931 Schedule

The official schedule reveals that the Rockers will play return engagements with every opponent that fell with the exception of a Southern Methodist schedule of nine games.

His is the path the fighting Irish will travel:

1. Indiana at Bloomington; Oct. 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 1931.

RUSS CHAPMAN IN K. O. C. MEET

Russ Chapman of Bates will run in the Bishop Cheevers 1000 yard race, a feature event in the William C. Prout Memorial Meet which takes place Jan. 31 in the Boston Garden.

The announcement of the coming of Chapman to defend the trophy he won last year is pleasing. He is a local athlete for his home in Quincy. He is the I. C. A. A. A. champion in the half mile.

Chapman is ineligible for I. C. A. A. competition this year, having run as a freshman at Bates. He is eligible for New England intercollegiate competition and for the "Maine collocate" tests and for all races at Penn's carnival and also the A. A. U. meets.

Passing the Puck

The Bruins left today for Chicago, where they are due for a tilt with the Hawks tomorrow night. With the exception of George Owen and Hal Darragh they all made the trip.

As the Hawks left New York today for home, the teams will at least be on even terms, as far as travel is concerned entering the game.

It will be a long time before the fans will see Bill Cook miss another open net as he did last night. Paul Thompson in the first period. Paul has never scored on Brother Try, but he will never have a better chance than he did last night.

President Frank Calder watched the game from the director's box. He was apparently well pleased with the exhibition, despite the fact that through the fault of the penalty timer, the Bruins were allowed to play for at least a minute with seven men.

In the third period of the game last night Harry Oliver jumped into the fray just as Eddie Shore dashed out of the penalty box. Before Manager Rowe had a chance

MIDDLEBURY IS OPPONENT

Middlebury has a slightly better than average aggregation of puck chasers, and Coach Dick Phelan promises the Cambridge team a battle tonight.

Inasmuch as Harvard has had little or no difficulty in eight previous matches with the strongest teams in this country and Canada, however, Middlebury is not considered much chance to win.

Harvard takes Middlebury in stride for some stiff games just ahead on the Harvard ice calendar. Approaching battles with Dartmouth, University Club and Yale have the Stuhlmans more concerned than with tonight's fray.

Several local boys will appear in the visitors' lineup. Ahn Mikela of Peabody, Duke Nelson of Danvers and George Fouts of Boston are three who will answer the referee's whistle in the Garden.

As for the Harvard team, the entire starting sextet are Greater Boston boys, as are most of the Crimson players. This Harvard sextet, which is said to be the greatest amateur hockey aggregation in years, is distinctly a local product.

$750 BOWL FOR BIG DOG SHOW

The Alredale Bowl, with a value of $750 will be offered in open competition by the Alredale Club of America for that breed of dog at the 19th annual exhibition of the Eastern Dog Club held for Boston Garden, February 23, 24 and 25, according to announcement made this morning by William Prescott Weston of Readville, president of the club.

This sporting breed is always one of the most popular entries at the big Boston show, and this year's entry is expected to surpass any of those of former years. The Bowl has been in competition since 1910 and will remain a perpetual trophy on which the names of each winner will be engraved. A silver medal will be awarded in commemoration of each award, according to Weston.

The Dempsey comeback talk is all part of his press agent department. In order to get theatrical engagements and jobs as referee for Dempsey, it is necessary to keep him in the limelight. Once the public thought Dempsey would never fight again, it would lose interest in him.

Dempsey could get a huge purse for one more bout, but he means that he would not have a chance if pitted against a first-class man. And so he keeps out of action.

Red Sox Rookie Pitcher Is Product of Big Cities

By JOE CASHMAN

One distinction is always going to be denied Walter Murphy, rookie Red Sox pitcher, no matter how much success he may eventually gain in the big leagues.

He will never be hailed as a small town boy who made good in the big city. His parents decided that 21 years ago by bringing him into this world in New York City and made it doubly certain by moving to Chicago a few years back.

He has spent his entire life in the country's two largest cities, so our local slickers will profit by his arrival in town next April, if he ever gets this far with the club.

His experience says he won't reach here that soon, if ever, but his record says he has a chance. Born, as we have already stated, in New York, he also received his schooling and did his first pitching in the "Big Town."

He finally landed in Fordham Prep and was all set to burn up a few college diamonds when he was forced to quit school and move to Chicago, where he first entered the semipro ranks.

In 1929, "Murr" came to the conclusion that he ought to become a

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH
CITY HALL

September 25, 1930.

The American Cigar Company,

New York, New York.

Gentlemen:

Your very effective campaign in the newspapers against "spit-tipping" by some cigar manufacturers is decidedly in the interest of the public health and in my opinion you are to be commended for this public service.

The use of the word "spit" forcibly calls attention to the evils of the "spit-tipping" methods and no other word could as effectively get over your message to the public.

Our health department is interested in these campaigns which tend to improve general health conditions and in our opinion your present campaign comes within this classification.

Therefore since I consider your campaign to be in the interest of public health since it directs attention to a bad sanitary condition in some cigar manufacturing plants, you have my permission to use this letter if my statement is of value to you.

Sincerely yours,
A. F. Adams
City Health Officer.

Every smoker, every wife whose husband smokes cigars, should read Dr. Adams' letter.

"Who are the friends of 'Spit'?"

YOU MAY WELL ASK THIS QUESTION WHEN 56 IMPORTANT HEALTH OFFICIALS HAVE WRITTEN SO STRONGLY AGAINST THE EVILS OF SPIT OR SPIT-TIPPING.

Dr. Adams writes: "The use of the word 'spit' forcibly calls attention to the evils of the 'spit-tipping' methods."

The war against spit is a crusade of decency. Join it. Smoke Certified Cremo—a really wonderful smoke—mild—mellow—nut-sweet! Every leaf entering the clean, sunny Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture.

AUTOPSY SHOWS DEATH CAUSE

Worcester, Jan. 14.—"Walking pneumonia" was given today as the cause of the death of Mrs. Mary B. Kolecki, 40, of 13 Langdon at. By Medical Examiner Frederick M. Baker, after an autopsy.

Mrs. Kolecki died yesterday, and discovery of several wounds on the back of her head led to the autopsy.

Dr. Baker said he found other injuries suffered, police say, at New Year's party Mrs. Kolecki attended, and which ended in a fight. She is survived by four children and her husband, James Kolecki.

AQUARIUM SEA HORSES DIE

A brood of 16 sea horses recently born at the South Boston Aquarium all died of birth. A pair of sea horses were purchased in November by the South Boston Aquarium and for a while their lives were endangered because of improper food. M. J. O'Brien, director of the aquarium, finally discovered minute insects under rocks at Castle Island, which have proven to be the proper nourishment for the adult fish. These fish grow to a maximum length of seven inches. It has a compressed body which tapers into a slender tail. The head is nearly at a right angle to the body and is shaped remarkably like that of a horse.

CHAPTER 45

FATHER O'CONNORS seemed stunned. Callahan was too scared for words, then. O'Flaherty said littlest Harry was groaning.

"I got a know—I got a know if I got a know," O'Flaherty said. "Mears called."

"He came out. 'Are you going to do me, John?'"

"No, John. I'm gonna send you with a message, let you go."

"Thanks, John. I'll take any message you say."

"Let me go, let me go!" wailed Harry. Mears spat toward him in disgust.

"And later, O'Flaherty, you give out word that we boys let you go because you were the only white guy among the screws—perhaps other screws will let you go more easily. Put them to it, Mears. You know we mean business?"

O'Flaherty Goes

"You do," he managed to say. Mears paused and glared at Callahan. Then he turned to O'Flaherty again.

"You know my plans—you know I've bumped two—you know what our next move is. We ain't chicken-hearted, we mean business. 'All right, go straight to the warden, get me? Go straight to him, make him see that we ain't chicken-hearted, we mean business. I've got Harry here."

"Not him—John—"

"Shut up, Harry, or I won't wait. And there's the warden's brother-in-law and Father O'Connors—"

"You're getting away with your life, O'Flaherty."

"Not Father O'Connors, John! Let him go with this message and I'll take my turn here."

No, O'Flaherty—I won't permit that," Father O'Connors said, sharply.

Killer John Mears stared at O'Flaherty and slowly shook his head. "That's beyond me—guess a priest means a lot to you, O'Flaherty."

"What represents death?"

"Well, if you want to go with this message I'll send a note and bump him off you."

O'Flaherty saw that it was useless. He told him that his brother-in-law, Head Keeper Callahan, knew next and that he got damn little time. Tell the warden to let us free and go, he said, let us free and go, he said, let us free and go, he said.

Callahan went next.

"He's got to do it in five minutes," said the warden.

Mears sent him ahead, stood behind him, unbuttoned the door to the outer guard room, shoved him through the wall, and sent him out. Even as he did so and shot the bolts, bullets crashed against the side. He hoped O'Flaherty hadn't been hit.

"They're sure wastin' lead out there," Mears said.

CHINA IN DRIVE TO CRUSH REDS

Hankow, Jan. 14 (AP)—Dispatches from northeastern Hunan today indicated the government was staging a great effort to crush a strong Communist organization in that province. Kuixiang advances, however, said the government's Anti-Red campaign in Kiangsi province, despite Nanking's claims to the contrary, was not progressing satisfactorily.

Reports said enthusiasm of troops in Kiangsi was low and Communists were checking the military almost every move.

Hunan advised said the government was exerting every effort to halt Communists who have captured, looted and partly burned several important towns. Hundreds of Chinese were slain in these raids.

The military inflicted a severe blow upon the Reds yesterday when troops routed 10,000 Communists from Lichow, killing 100 in the encounter.

MARX BROTHERS GOING TO HOLLYWOOD TO MAKE NEW FILM IN SPRING

ORIGINAL COMEDY BEING WRITTEN FOR THEM

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor Universal Service
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 11.—The Marx Brothers, four of them, count them, are coming to Hollywood to crash the movie gates. Now that is not a nice way to start a story, is it, since the four Marx Brothers have been among our favorite entertainers on the stage as well as on the screen for goodness knows how long.

What I started out to say is—although the Marx boys have never tried Hollywood aim or sphere. They are due here in March to be started under the supervision of Herman Mankiewicz. Another thing is different in the life of the Marx and his brothers than this is the first story based on one of their successful stage plays. Paramount's new comedy construction, and cast men will go into a huddle to turn out some good comedy.

I WONDER sometimes if we appreciate how interesting our famous motion picture stars are to the outside world. Albert Einstein is probably the greatest scientist of our time and his name is one that is known throughout the civilized world. His visit to Los Angeles was not inspired by motion pictures but one of the things that interested him most was meeting Charlie Chaplin. He asked Charlie Chaplin would use him at the studio. When Charlie heard it he immediately arranged a dinner for the Einstein party and Carl Laemmle, Sr., another German who has achieved big things in his own line. Charlie, these days, spends a lot of time playing tennis and keeping fit. In fact, it wouldn't surprise any of his friends if one day he was up for a professional tennis match.

HERE AND THERE around Hollywood I learn that June Clyde, the cut who recently married TILTON, PRESIDENT, is to be another one of the new ones in "Women Love Men." GEORGE CHANDLER has just had his first picture with Paramount in to play a part in "Cavalier of the River." CYRIL RICHARDSON, who directed "The Royal Family" in New York, has been put on a long term contract to lend his directorial talents at Universal City.

Summers to the contrary, GLORIA SWANSON has started work on "Oh, That Impulse!" BARBARA HENRY is on the United Artists. Also that well known actor VONDORE WISLEY, is leaving New York Wednesday to play a part in GLORIA SWANSON'S picture.

"Charley's Aunt," the rollicking farce which for years has entertained young and old, will be presented in talking picture form at the RKO Keith tomorrow with the greatest natural comedy of the day playing the title role, Charlie Ruggles. This Columbia production is being presented as the second big photoplay on the RKO second anniversary schedule of super-attractions.

Charlie Ruggles, the happy possessor of that combination of slapstick and sophisticated humor so necessary for the successful interpretation of the "dowager aunt from Brazil" in this picture, breaks away from the ordinary role allotted him in previous productions to don the feminine makeup of "Charley's Aunt," a role which is promised to provide numerous hilarious moments for Keith patrons, giggles that will bring into laughter and then into loud guffaws.

Baruch for Self-Help, Not U.S. Aid, for Trade

By MERRILL STANLEY RUBEYSER. New York, Jan. 14.—Behind the present temporary business depression is a fundamental clash between ideas of business management.

The so-called "protectionist" advocates a policy of voluntary control of business for the benefit of the nation.

The "industry," it added, is not alarmed because the slow recovery in 1928 was not a result of the accumulation of large surpluses.

Some of the newer economists, including Eugene Aigner of Johns Hopkins University, whose views were recently published in the "Economic Review," have been advocating a Supreme Economic Council.

On Building a Postoffice

Our Efficiency Produces a Hole in the Ground

It took 700 years to build the Cathedral of Cologne. It will take 700 centuries to build the Boston City Post-office, at the speed they are going now.

To the people of Cologne, it was a labor of love and faith, not of time. They had no architects, no skilled contractors, no building devices, "American cranes" or modern building machinery. They worked when inspired by inspiration. Wars, revolutions and pestilences intervened. But they got it done.

Perhaps if they had as many architects, contractors, politicians to serve the Indiana limestone crowd or others looking for a piece of the job, the site of the Cathedral of Cologne would be what the site of the Boston City Postoffice yet is—a garish hole in the ground, a miserable relic to the modern efficiency.

We have as President a "great engineer," as Postmaster-General a shrewd politician who learned his tricks in the Mark Hanna days; as Secretary of the Treasury "the greatest since Alexander Hamilton"; and as local Postmaster an engineer and building expert.

If there are any other interests still looking for their share of the job, for Heaven's sake take care of them and let the work go on.

It will at least give work and income to the idle who need it. It will save the businessmen and people generally the delays of handicapped postal service. It would give the apostles of efficiency something to talk about.

'Work and Faith'

Mayor Curley's Refuge in His Sorrow

"It's been long after Bluff. If a man didn't have work, and, above all, if he didn't have faith, he couldn't stand it. What a boon they are after all—work and faith."

Those are the brave reflections of Mayor Curley on the personal sorrows which have beset him and which have enlisted the genuine, whole-hearted sympathy of the people in his bereavement.

There is the faith that moveth mountains. And Wordsworth likened faith to the amaranthine flower, bound round the sufferer's temples in wreaths that endure affliction's heaviest shower, and do not shrink from sorrow's keenest wind.

Of work, Dwight wrote: "Work, and thou wilt find that the day ere the toll be done." And again, "They that work not, cannot pray, cannot feel the sun."

Franklin said that idleness takes with a heavier hand than kings and Parliament. Laws cannot make the idle industrious, but faith can shake the shackles which hold idleness in check.

The Fate of the Elevated

Twobig Calls for a Showdown

Senator Twomb calls upon the Elevated stockholders to put their cards on the table, face up.

The people voted for continued public control.

Governor Ely properly says they voted for public control that will impose no unfair burden upon the car-riders for the advantage of the stockholders.

The stockholders have received guaranteed dividends for thirteen years from a property so run down, on the verge of bankruptcy, that the State had to step in to save it.

Also, the State agreed, in the event it took over the road, to pay a much higher value than the market worth of the stock today.

The shareholders have, not back comfortably, accepted their dividends and save the value of their holdings increased by the public.

Now it is time for them to come forward with a proposition. If they are willing to accept a lower dividend rate and a lower value of their holdings, let them say so.

If not, the State can devise means of acquiring the Elevated under terms which the shareholders may find to be no so favorable as they could receive by frank bargaining.

Capital Silhouettes

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

MAYBE WE can't get rid of prohibition via the Constitution, but have the wits made a sufficiently careful research of the Senate's rules?

THE SENATE confirms Mr. Hoover's appointment to the "Commission-for the nonce."

PHILIPINE religious fanaticism has the American flag in its teeth and are said to be thinking of going in for prohibition.

IT'S UNDERSTOOD that the new members of the Tariff Commission will accept the job provided they don't have to take a lesson on a Washington apartment.

PRESIDENT CURRAN of the association vs. the 18th says that the latest attempt to amend the 18th is the near future, as he expects what is repeated in two years. What without waiting for the Lick-erham report?

JIM DAVIS says he is not in the least alarmed by the threat to oust him from his Senate seat, as the dominant characteristic of his whole life has been stick-to-it-iveness.

THE BRITISH Government, we are told, will not use Albert Wiggin's plan to scale down the allied war debts as a lever to expose the national agreement; and neither will they use it as a lever to expose the taxpayers who are just now boundedly generous in their support of all that can be for the relief of the home folk.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Few native New Yorkers know that the fourteenth of their island below Fulton st. If they go through the section they are whisked underground. Many Wall and Broad office workers see only the deep canyons in which are located their skyscrapers.

But visiting foreigners are always grieved here. It interests them more than known wonders. They want to see the Custom House, the harbor dotted with myriad craft, the dimly defined

Woman, SO Remarkable

HOW You Can Spring, HOW You Can Jump! What Will Power in That Fairy Frame

WILL YOU PLEASE LOOK AT HER?

These two dancing, or shall we say JUMPING ladies, are both German frauleins. Above, Fraulein Ruth Marcus, below, Fraulein Palucca. We can't give you definite information about them, except such as these dancing pictures convey.

But we can, and we shall, muse and moralize on the terrific power that is locked up in women.

What high speed automobile, or airplane, could teach her anything about motion or velocity?

What comic artist, depicting womanhood with his avenging rolling pin, warning a husband, ever displayed such energy as this?

Kipling said: "The female of the species is more deadly than the male." And, in the language of a famous movie man "he hadn't seen nothing."

Woman, lovely, remarkable, powerful, invincible, you have not yet come into your own, although you are dancing far, already.

You are, in your majesty, 800,000,000 of you on the earth, like the giant flocks of Niagara before the turbines were put in, and the power harnessed.

What wonders you will perform, how you will rule the earth, and teach man his place and his duty, when you really get started.

And, by the way, these two pictures of German girls show you what the future of Germany and her people must be.

The great war killed men, destroyed property, spent two hundred and fifty billions. But, fortunately, IT DID NOT KILL THE WOMEN. And what they will do in the way of producing energetic children, we need not tell you.
